Re: Headhunter, LLC v. Doe—158.222.145.83 et al.
Civ. A. No. 1:17-cv-08375-VEC

Dear Judge Caproni:

DeMatteo Law, PLLC represents Headhunter, LLC (“Plaintiff”) in the above-identified copyright infringement action against various unnamed Doe defendants. We write in response to the Court’s February 6, 2018 order requesting that the Plaintiff show cause why it should not be sanctioned for failing to provide the Court with status by February 2, as ordered by the Court in its November 13, 2017 order. see Dkt. 8. Respectfully, Plaintiff provided the Court with the requested status in its January 12, 2018 letter. See Dkt. 19.

Plaintiff filed its complaint for copyright infringement on October 31, 2017. See generally Dkt. 1. On November 13, 2017, Your Honor granted Plaintiff’s motion seeking leave to conduct third-party discovery on various Internet Service Providers. See Dkt. 7, 8. The Court’s November 13 Order also required Plaintiff to “file a status letter with the court by February 2, 2018.” See Dkt. 8. On January 12, 2018, Plaintiff filed with the Court a letter “provid[ing] the Court with status of expedited third-party discovery”<sup>1</sup> and requesting an extension of the Rule 4(m) deadline. See Dkt. 19. That same day, the Court endorsed Plaintiff’s letter motion and granted-in-part the requested extension. See Dkt. 20.

As Plaintiff complied fully with the Court’s November 13 order requesting status, it is respectfully submitted that Plaintiff should not be made to suffer any sanctions.

Respectfully submitted,

DEMATTEO LAW, PLLC

<sup>1</sup> The Court’s November 13 order related solely to third-party discovery. At the time status was provided on January 12, and also as of the February 2 deadline, this matter had not yet proceeded beyond third-party discovery, nor had an amended complaint been served by either date. As such, Plaintiff could provide the Court only with status insofar as it related to third-party discovery.
